When you have a question about my course's content or the assignments, start by opening the Course Materials unit. Within this unit is a class discussion board titled Raise Your Hand. Check to see if your question has already been asked by another student and read my response there. If no one has posted your question yet, feel free to do so. Then check back later in the day for the answer.

Begin your post with information that allows other students to know which lesson it is about. For example, you should use the unit and lesson numbers, separated by a period—so you'd write 4.3 for Unit 4, Lesson 3. Follow that number with your question and be specific. Then check back later in the day for the answer.

If your question requires an immediate answer, contact me directly. If you have a private question or comment, contact me by e-mail.
